

ECARX Honoured with Volkswagen Brazil's Partnership Connectivity Award at The One 2026

June 23, 2026 at 6:00 AM EDT

RIO DE JANEIRO, June 23, 2026 /PRNewswire/ -- ECARX Holdings Inc. (Nasdaq: ECX), a global leader in intelligent automotive computing and software-defined vehicle technology, has been presented with the Partnership Connectivity Award at Volkswagen Brazil's (Volkswagen do Brasil) flagship annual supplier summit, The One 2026.

Held at the historic Ilha Fiscal landmark on Guanabara Bay in central Rio de Janeiro, the event brought together hundreds of Volkswagen Group South America strategic suppliers, automotive executives and industry stakeholders to recognise outstanding supply chain partners.

The prestigious Partnership Connectivity Award celebrates ECARX's market-leading delivery of advanced digital cockpit and connected vehicle technology, acknowledging consistent excellence across innovation, regional program execution, cross-functional collaboration, and reliable long-term partnership with Volkswagen Brazil.

Judged by Volkswagen Group South America's procurement, engineering and product leadership teams, the award validates ECARX's standout performance across six core evaluation pillars:

1. Cutting-edge digital cockpit hardware and unified connectivity software stacks
2. Differentiated technology innovation and competitive automotive-grade product portfolio
3. Dedicated end-to-end support for Volkswagen's Latin American and global vehicle programs
4. Industry-leading program delivery speed, on-time execution and responsive customer support
5. Seamless cross-functional alignment with Volkswagen's regional engineering, manufacturing and sales teams
6. Uncompromising standards for product quality, system reliability and sustainable long-term collaboration

This recognition underscores Volkswagen Group South America's trust in ECARX as a foundational strategic technology partner, tasked with advancing the automaker's regional transition to fully connected, intelligent software-defined vehicles.

ECARX delivers its market-proven Antora® series high-performance computing platforms and Cloudpeak® software architecture to power Volkswagen and Škoda passenger vehicles sold across Brazil and other Latin American markets, with native compatibility for Apple CarPlay, Android Auto and Google Automotive Services to deliver consumer-centric in-cabin experiences for local drivers.

ECARX's integrated hardware and software ecosystem enables OEMs to deploy future-ready digital cockpits with seamless cross-device connectivity, over-the-air (OTA) upgradability and advanced in-vehicle intelligence tailored to Latin American market requirements. The company's streamlined regional engineering workflows cut integration timelines for connected services, accelerating vehicle launch schedules while maintaining strict global automotive compliance and cybersecurity benchmarks.

Ziyu Shen, Founder, and CEO of ECARX, accepted the trophy on stage alongside senior ECARX and Volkswagen Group South America executives during the evening gala ceremony:

"This award is a testament to the relentless expertise, agility and customer-first mindset of our entire ECARX global and Latin American teams. It reinforces the strength of our joint innovation roadmap with Volkswagen Group South America, centred on delivering robust, scalable connectivity and cockpit solutions that elevate end-user experiences and support the brand's software-defined vehicle transformation across Brazil and the wider Latin American region."

For ECARX, the accolade reinforces its positioning as a trusted global tier-1 mobility technology provider, with rapidly growing regional footprint and customer program volume throughout Latin America.
